Steam Distilleries at Work.

In our last issue we gave a concise summary of the extent and volume of the whisky production in this state as well as the United States, imbracing the past eighteen mouths in Kentucky, and for three years in the whole country. The great bulk of the entire production consisted of highwines and steam Bourbon-so calledthe latter being little better than raw spirits, and not palatable until past two years old. It is a well-known fact to the trade, that the excessive taxes caused the production of pure, straight Bourbon, the old-fashioned, hand-made fire-distilled to almost wholly cease, and pure whisky, the genuine Bourbon, is extremely scarce and is as valuable as old wine over tobacco is not well assured. Manuone hundred years old. A few barrels of old-fashioned, copper whiskey, thirteen years old, are still in existence, commanding twenty dollars per gallon. In the Bourbon county district there are but six distilleries in operation, which adhere to the old process, and their annual production is small. This product is generally contracted for as soon as made, and the great bulk of it is purchased exclusively for this market.

There are six distilleries in this (the Louisville) district, three of which have not been in operation since last May. They recommenced work with the new year, having capacity for the daily production each of from 30 to 50 barrels. In addition to this, six of the Owen County, sour mash distilleries resumed operations last week, and the other distillers in the district, (the 5th, or Louisville district) contemplate partial resumption of full work before February. Oue of the largest distilleries in the State, located in the city, on upper Main street, has resumed operamaterial increase in new product is anfor consumption until after next year.

The Tobacco Crops and Market.

The market thus far this season has been of rather a quiet character, the transactions to date being barely equal to the sales of the previous season. This is conceded to be fully equal, if not in excess of anticipations, as the incoming crop of what is known as Kentucky tobaccoes, embracing the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana. Illinois, Missouri, and portions 197,500 hhds last season. With the falling off in quantity the aggregate of ing result, the facts demonstrating an actual increase in offerings, despite the very untoward weather, and long continued unnavigable condition of the river and tributaries. The dealers and planters alike, are fully aware of the fact that this is the best and the quickest market in the country for the ings of 1871, and upon the interest and of the bright cutting leaf tobacco and wrappers, as well as of shipping grades though the drvidens are not declared by sending their crops direct to this market for sale, through the admirawarehouses.

The falling off in the crops was traceable to the unreliability of labor, inducing farmers to give more attention to cereals, which were at the planting season bringing relatively higher prices, and do not require so much or such skillful labor, while the tobacco trade was depressed. A trade circular, referring to the sugject, estimates that of the current crop 85,000 to 90,000 hhds, may reach the seaboard, and observe that as to the quality and character of the new crop, indications are that the growth is superior to the preceeding one. "The leaf is not of large size, but shows fine fibres and more body." Little injury was done by the frost last September, but in some districts more or less was cut green. We earn that stocks of American tobacco ere small in the principle markets on he continent, but that England has in excessive supply—say 30,000 hhds. The export of leaf tobacco from the United States for the year ending October 1, 1871, was stated at 96,547 hhds. Current high prices will undoubtedly

Tax upon Dividends.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue decides that a tax must be paid upon dividens declared out of the earngreat staple, and producers especially coupons representing the interest which accrued in that year, even would best consult their own interests or the interest is not payable until after December 31, 1871; and that the corporations mentioned in section 15, bly arranged and managed tobacco of the act of July the 4, 1870, should withhold the tax from the holders of their stocks and bonds.

The Supreme Court on Monday affirmed the constitutionality of the legal tender law and overruled so much of the decision in the case of Hepburn Nos. 3 Main and 4 Washington vs. Griswold as ruled the legal tender acts unwarranted by the Constitution, so far as they apply to contracts made before their enactment. A SONG-BY ALICE M'CLURE GRIFFIN.

Never on mermaid's golden tresses Glittered a pearl in the waters green As pure as the one my heart posses My darling, my baby Virgiline; Sweet Virgiline, my baby queen, Beautiful baby Virgiline.

Thou camest when the blossoming roses Gladdened the beautiful summer scene. But not as a rose to the sun discloses Beauty like thine, my Virgiline. Sweet Virgiline, my baby queen, Beautiful baby Virgiline.

Never a care now my heart oppresses, Never a cloud on my brow is seen; All dissolve in the fond caresses Of my bright eyed baby Virgiline; Sweet Virgiline, my baby queen, Beautiful baby Virgiline.

"Oh, I haven't told you yet that m cousln, Mlss Steele, is with me," the small diplomatist said carelessly. "This is our friend Ted, Helen-you may call him Ted, too, if you're good." "Some have honor thrust upon them," Helen said, saucily. "And there is such a thing as casting pearls of condescension away," Georgia laughed.

"And there is such a thing as being put in the wrong place by one's best friends, Georgie," Mydleto i sai quickly, and so they became very in timate and friendly without much trouble.

"What is your program me to-nigh little woman?" her husband ast ed of Georgie, in the middle of dinne;

"The theatre of course; but which I haven't settled."

"There are three stalls for the Ad. phi," he said, throwing the ticket across the table at her; "will they is"; "Besutifully! Ted, you must g) to

"No work! I thought writers always had work to do; my idea of you all is that printers' devils hover on your doorsteps perpetually," she sald laughing, but watching his face keenly as he spoke.

He shook his head mlserably. Her tone of interest in blm smote him to the heart, and he could not bear to lower himself in her esteem by telling her that he was one of those whose work was not wanted. He could not bear to tell her this, and weaken, perhaps, the sympathy which she was of discovering the criminal. looking at him so gently from out those sweet violet eyes. So he only shook his head and laughted feebly. ard then the two ladies went away to get on their opera cloaks.

"Why have you done this, Georgie?" He asked the question of Mrs. Bourn, who had rushed into her wrap and rushed down stalrs again before Helen had time to gain her room.

"Got Helen Steele here, do you mean?" she asked picking np the gauntlet at once.

"Yes; I'm down already, and if I see more of her it will only make my life more miserable than it is at present; I shall be sighing for a star-"

"O Ted, work for her. don't sigh on-I'll confess I've prayed for you to be what you say you are already 'down' before her; if you love her as I hope vou'll love her-"

"Wouldn't she open those magnificent eyes of hers in astonlshment at my presumption? No, no, Georgie, she is not for such as me-"

"Ted, Ted, you pain me so. Vln-cent, make him hear reason." "She looks like a countess, little woman, and you want me, a ruined man, to fall into the errorr of lovle her."

Then she came into the room again, looking radient, for she was much interested in the manner and physique and conversation of this young literary man who had been heir to a baronetcy, looking radient, and rather anx-Yous to note the effect her looks had on him.

It was a regular Adelphi drama that they went to see that night. There was great deal of virtuous beauty in unmerited distress; and a falr share of tiourishing viilainy. Kate Terry iliustrated the former, and all the world knows what she can do at such a part. At any rate, she did a good deed that night, for she helped these two young people to a better understanding of one another.

"I'm such a novice in all these things," Helen whispered to Ted, while Georgie looked away assiduously, and feigned unconsciousness of the North Carolina legislature to reputheir presence, "so what I am going to diate the whole debt assumed for the Circular. ask may be a very out-of-the-way encouragement and the building of thing; but I should like so much to railways; and, judging from the tone read something of yours and for you to of public sentiment there, it is to be lend it to'me. something else. At all events, it was to his wife he addressed those passonate pure lines of Edgar Allan Poe's:

"On desperate seas long want to roam, Thy hyacinth hair, thy classic face, Thy naiad airs, have brought me home, To the glory that was of Greece, And the grandeur that was of Rome."

A Singular Story.

Chambers' Journal vouches for th ruth of the following story, which wa riginally published in the guise o iction:

She had almost forgotten the murder, and if she thought of it, it was not with any hope

"It happened she was walking in one of the promenades one afternoon, when, as she passed a group of men, she heard these words: 'there' a leg for a stocking, and there' a foot for a shoe.' In a moment the events of the evening before her mlstress was murdered fiashed on her memory. And now for her marvelous presence of mind. Pretending not to have heard anything, she glanced sideways at the group of men, She saw there three but she could not tell which had spoken. She walked slowly by them, then she stopped in an undecided manner, and finally turned back and walking up to them asked to be directed to a certain street. As she expected, all of them ly," Georgie clamored, "Dear Ted, had a word for her, and among the voices she easily recognized the one that had just spoken. Their language and looks were both very free, but she only told them that they were very impertinent, and that she would get the information she want d from the first gendarme.

"She thus averted suspicion if they noticed her speaking to a pollceman. The next difficulty was how to inform a gendarme what she wanted; she had only been a fortnight in France. and knew scarcely a French word She, however, carried a pocket dictonary with her to assist in making purchases and as a means of acquiring a little French. Going over to a bench she sat down, and, searching through the dictionary, found the words she wanted, and then she wrote them with a pencil on the fly-leaf of the dictionary. The sentence ran thus: Gendarmes je ovoir besbin vous arrester en meurtrier?' The grammar was not very correct, as dictionaries do not teach syntax; but the gendarme understood it and in another minute held the murderer in his grasp. He was afterward convicted and executed on the girl's testimony."

SOUTHERN STATE DEBTS .- The open threats of repudiating some of the Southern State debts, are causes of no little uneasiness in financial circles. A proposition has been introduced in feared the proposition may prevail. Bonds marked * are sold with the interest added. Weekly Review.

The trade of the city during the week nnder review has been very fair in all departments, with rather an npward tendency for manufactured articles and cotton fabrics, based upon the increased demand for the former aud the material advance in the staweek and prices at remunerative rates to the producer, and an active, as well as increased, spring trade is anticipated, with an increase facturing firms in the city.

There has been a marked increase in the whisky trade, chiefly in straight copper or pure Bourbon, the stocks of which are small and the production very much restricted. With the tax removed, the production of pure copper would be vastly increased, but under existing iaws the great bulk of the product is highwines and steam copper. The steam distilieries in Jeffer on and Owen counties, after eight months' suspension, have again resumed operations, which has increased the demand for corn and rye.

The question of the reduction of the tarift is again agitated in Congress in the shape of a bill to amend the coal, lumber and salt tax. This last bili, now before the Senate committee, revises the whole list of tariff duties. with but few exceptions, adding two hundred articles to the free list and reducing all ten per cent., excepting spirits, tobacco and othr designated iuxuries. Breadstuffs are pretty-well sustained, but not active.

The grocery trade is large and quite active especially in sugar, molasses and other articies, excepting coffec, which is rather quiet, owing chlefly to the advance, which checks ales. The supplies and stocks are ample.

The provision market is steady, with a better feeling prevailing during the week, coanable funds to meet all requirements of though closing quiet, the demand not being creased by the slaughter of 1,675 hogs at New Albany, making the total 311,187, of an averas reported, against the total of last season, is as follows:

The directory of the Louisville and Nash ville railroad has reduced the rates of freight on leaf tobacco in hhds to $2 50 per hhd, from Nashville to this city. This should thrn all the Cumberland tobacco to this market, where the best prices are obtained, in addition to which the planter will save from three to four dollars per hhd in freight.

The weather during the week has been uniform and mild for the season, with no rain or snow, and the thermometer, on the 17th, down to 20 pegrees above zero—the coldest of the month. The river, under the influence of dry weather, is falling fast, but continues at a fair navigable stage.

To Druggists.

Pure drugs and medicines are the great requirements among patients and doctors, and whoever keeps the pure, unadulterated drugs is sure to get most of the physicians' prescriptions. One of the great, if not constant, demands at the drug store is for pure liquor for medicinal purposes. The pure article is most difficult to obtaln, as there are so many spurious productions in every market, yet we are assured that Messrs. Hopkins & Higgins have made it their specialty to deal in pure, straight Kentucky

LEAF TOBACCO.

There has been some reaction in the mark et on the lower grades of the new crop, with sales, at the close of last week, of lugs and common leaf at less than our then range of quotations. This was owing to the (in part) bad prizing, as well as the trashy condition of the offerings, while partially due to the increased supplies and dullness in the export and shipping demand. During the current week, despite the rather heavy offerings, the market has been well sustained, with an active demand at fuil rates for all good condi tioned bright leat for cutting and wrappers. Old leaf rules high, and we note a diminution of stocks on hand.

We subjoin the sales of the week at the auction warehouse

Cotton.

The buoyancy in the cotton market noticed n our last continues, with almost a steady daily advance. This upward movement is caused by the decreased receipts and the excited condition of the Liverpool market which has moved upward by the same facts. Holders are now galning confidence in the belief of a small crop. It is also surmised that the short interest for the month is large, and that something of a corner may be englneered later on.

For forward delivery the movement has been large, with quotations for low middling as follows:

The receipts for the weck at all the ports have been 94,595 bales, against 110,628 las week, making the total receipts since Sep tember 1, 1871, 1,571,498 bales, against 1,900,5 for the same period of 1870, showing a d crease this year of 329,054 bales.

Last week spot cotton advanced in New York to 221 c, and future contracts were heavy at an advance. This week the excitement has abated and, on the 18th, the market is quiet at 1/1c advance on our last week's rates. Liverpool has also lost its former advance and is quiet at 101/2d. Dealers here have been free sellers at current rates, excepting when ordered to hold, the receipts being low

The market has ruled steady, though closing less firm than at the first of the week, with, as yet but a light demand among consumers, as it is ruther early in the season At this date last year the packing operations had not closed at any point, but this season the pork-packers have generally wound up their accounts, and have disposed of the bulk of their product to dealers, and only a few Northern points are in operation. Seed-Clover, 56a57s. A Chamber of Commerce.

The mayor of the city, in his late annual message reverted to our commercial interest, affirming "that concert of action could be had in developing and extending our commercial and manufacturing interests and trade." He recommends the co-operation of all classes of citizens in the establishment of a live, public-spirited chamber of commerce. The present organization known as the "Board of Trade," is but an incubus upon the city, owing its origin to the necessities of trade and restrictions of commerce during the late intestine war, and was then maintained for the sole purpose of controlling trade permits, requiring an oath of loyalty, to be obtained through the organization, and all who joined the association did it for that sole purpose. Subsequently, for four years, pose. Subsequently, for four years, the board of trade acted as a chamber of commerce, but during the last three years, through inattention and lack of action, it has finally dwindled down to nothing. The advancement of the material, as well as the commercial interest of the city demand a chamber of commerce and sales by competition in the open market.

The Coal Question. The demand, supply and price of coal continues to agitate the community, and the coal dealers alone are censured and blamed for both short supplies and the high prices. We have noted the ups and downs of the coal trade for many years and assert the fact that the coal dealers are blameless, and stand in the position of friends to the small consumers. They neither own nor control the coal nor the mines, and are dependent on the Pittsburg owners who control the market and dictate the prices. The latter sell a barge load or flat load of 10,000 or 20,000 bushels to a dealer at 15 or 16 cents a bushel affoat at the landing. The present rate is, say, 15 cts. per bushel afloat in the river. This makes the actual expense to the dealer 19 cents per bushel; as it cannot be taken from the river and carted for less than 4 cents per bushel leaving to the dealer the margin of only one cent for his profits upon the venture. The complaint and the remedy must be applied at head quarters-at Pittsburg, or else seek other mines and other sources of supply.

A subscription has been started in Berlin for the erection of a monument in honor of Moltke in his birth-place.

There are eight pin facotries in the United States, whose annual production is 6,720,000 pins.

Costa Rica has projected an interoceanic railroad, and it is contemplated to complete it in two years. The dead letters returned to Washington last year contained $3,000,000.

Patent Match Vase.

One of the most useful, every-day requirements is a match safe or holder, which every body requires and uses. Among the latest patents is that of Mr. George Brown of this city, of the club room, who has patented a match vase which is cheap, simple and useful. It admirably answers the purpose of a match holder or igniter, a cigar lighter and a paper weight, being heavy, with a broad base, and cannot be overturned. It is adapted as an ornament to the mantle or desk and should be universally adopted, especially in dwellings to protect the wall-paper and furniture. They are manufactured in the city and sold by Magill & Bro.

Newspaper Laws.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the postoffice. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses. 5. The courts have decided that re-fusing to take newspapers and periodi-cals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncetted for, is prima f meta evidence of intentional fraud.

High Rates of Interest.

With the view of indicating plainly the great difficulty on the part of borrowers paying a high rate of interest, we again ask a careful consideration of the increase of capital invested at the various rates of interest, as set forth in the following statement:

If one dollar be invested, and the interest added to the principal annually, at the rate named, we shall have the following result as the accumulation of 100 years:

Domestic Dried Fruits.

Within the past twenty years the trade in domestic dried fruits has become a very important interest, and the business is every year steadily increasing. Formerly it was the custom farmers to use most of their surprovement in its quality, soon stimu- pany. lated consumers to a more liberal use of all varieties. At present, vast quan- about the year 1808, at the Red Lion, tities of drled apples, peaches, cherries, Hungerford. In too many instances, the ordinary ruit of former years was scrawney, vorm-eaten or unpalatable, and when dried it become more unwholesome still. People who have indulged in hostler shut the stable door, and Ralph fruits of this description, and who was deprived the company of his have formed opinions based on such friend the whole night; but in the experience are very apt to entertain prejudices unfavorable to the use of any that Ralph would, in another hour, vareity of domestic dried fruit.

The best productions of the orchard, and manny kinds of berries, can be made available in this manner, and ford an excellent substitute for the same production in its original and more perfect condition. Little difficulty is experienced in selling dried fruit of this description to home consumers or shippers, at paying rates. Care D. C .: must be observed, however, in putting up packages for sale. Light and dark colored apples should never be mixed together; neither should sour and sweet; and this rule will apply equally to all other descriptions of fauit which are dried for general consumption. Eastern and Southern dried apples, peaches, &c., command the highest prices in the New York markets, part-Ay on account of their superior quality and better flavor, but mostly from the ct that the farmers and fruit raisers of these localities have a more correct idea of what is necessary to make their products appear to the best advantage.

At the recent great fire in Chicago, mmense quantities of apples, peaches, ackberries and other dried fruits rere destroyed; but a large proportion of the loss was "old crop," which had been kept over from former years, and had been held on speculative account, nuch above the views of dealers and consumers

Anecdotes of the Raven.

The scene of the incident was one of those fairs which, in our boyish days, we remember so well, and with asant and not altogether unregretful cellings that our modern civilization is apidly making them institutions of the past. On the outside canvas of ne show was depicted the representaion of a huge bird, which was desribed in gigantic characters as the Learned Raven."

There was a goodly congregation asoth to witness the performance of e wonderful bird, and, as a matter of ourse, a respectable sprinkling of the c, old and young, which is especially credited with the bump of curiosity. went duly appeared, went rough sundry tricks not supposed to general with ravens in their naturele of cards, each of which was concuonsly impressed with a capital tter, the components, letter by letter, some desired word, and arranging em in their proper orthographical der; and then, selecting the fairest Lin the company, made her a and his own reputation in the arts of everyone present at the same ment.

FROM the time of the first patent of a sew-l'ing machine, in 1842, there have been more than 1,000 inventors of real or alleged improvements in it. A great proportion of the inventions have been discarded as effective or useless. The most valuable improvements are owned and contriled by three or four of the many sewing machine companies, and the machines are now made at the rate of two thousand a day. A business of such great and increasing magnitude, involving the livelihood of many thousands, and the comfort and prosperity of all, claims the attention of all, and to point out which of the leading companies now makes the ls the object of this article, based upon indis Is the object of this article, based upon indispontable facts, whiten without prejudice, and in the light of all the information we have gathered upon the subject.

The first Weed Sewing Machine was patented by the late Theodore E. Weed, in 1851, since which time it has been greatly simplified, its work perfected and its capacity increased. The business men and c pitalists who now compose the Weed Sewing Machine Company; reorganized in 1867, with an authorized capital of $1,00,000, after much time and experience produced their new Family Favorite Sewing Machine.

So great were its meries and success, that within five years they reached a position in their live which required twenty years for their principal competitors to attain.

At the Paris Exposition in 1867

the Weed company took the highest prize for the best sewing machine. This established lis claims for ability to execute work of every description, without change or adjustment, and from the most delicate to the heaviest goods—a range of work never before attempted by any machine.

Wheeler & Wilson were awarded a gold medal only for their machine for making button-holes. Elias Howe received the Legion of Honor decoration a being the original inventor of the sewing machine upon which vast improvements have been mode by others, the Weed machine being adjudged the best of all. At the

Maryland Institute Exhibition in 1869

(the 22d annual), there was a grand contest tor superiority between the Weed, the Wheeler & Wilson and the Howe sewing machines. The trial lasted five weeks and resulted in favor of the Weed machine.

At the first public examination, the agent of the Weed machine presented, in writing, to the committee appointed to examine the mechanical merits of each,

29 Separate and Distinct Claims for superforlty for the Weed machine, as compared with the Wheeler & Wilson ma-chine. All these claims were sustained. Then were submitted for the Weed machine, as compared with the Howe machine. All these claims were also sustained. The award of the judges was unanimous, and as follows:

12 Distinct Claims of Superiority

A Gold Medal to the Weed Machine.

A silver medai, each, to the Wheeler & Wilson and the Howe machines. None of the committee or judges had ever before examined the Weed machine. This was its first appearance as a competitor for honors at a public exhibition in Maryland. The judges where wholly appointed by the Executive committee and were personally unknown to the respective competitors. The verdict was that of an unquestioned, honest, intelligent and competent authority, decisively and nuanimously pronounced.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or TIMEL. Interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellary of pure, light and g aceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the raiest specimens of a tistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of the Aldine will be most appreclated affor it has been bound up at the close of the year. The possessor of the volume just completed cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost.

The edition for 1871 is already exhausted, and it is now a scarce as well as valuable book. New Features for 1872.

Art Department. The enthinstatic support so readily accorded their enterprise wherever it has been introduced, has convinced the publishers of The Aldine of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications. As a guarantee of the excellence of this department, the publishers would beg to announce, during the coming year, specimens from the following eminent American artists:

W. T. Richards,
Wm. Beard,
Ang. Will,
F. O. C. Darley.
Wm. H. Wilcox,
James Smiley,
Frank Beard,
James Reard.
R. E. Ptynet,

J. Rows.

These plctures are being reproduced, without regard to expense, by the very best engravers in the country, and will bear the severest critical comparison with the best forein work, it being the determination of the publishers that The Aldine shall be a successful vludication of American taste in competition with any existing publication in the world. Literary Department. Where so much attention is paid to illuswhere so much attention is paid to illustration and get up of the work; too much dependence on appearances may very naturally be feared. To anticipate such missivings it is only necessary to state that the editorial management of the Aldire has been intrusted to Mr. RICHARD HENRY STODDARD, who has received assurances of assistance from a host of the country. poets of the country. The Volume for 1872 will contain nearly 360 pages and about 250 fine engravings. Commencing with the number for January, every third number in January, every third number in the pages of the pages and about 250 fine and plate paper, inserted as a frontisplece.

The Christmas humber for 1572 will be a splendld volume of itself, containing fifty engravings (four in tint), and, although retailed at $1, will be sent without extra charge to all yearly subscribers.

A Chromo to Every Subscriber was a very popular featurelast year, and will be repeated with the present volume. The purchasers have purchased and reproduced, at great expense, the beautiful oil painting by SEIS, entitled "Dame Nature's School."

The chromo is livid inches, and is an exact for the last of the experiment of the fac-simile, in size and appearance, of the original picture. An Annual Review.

Last week one of the city daily papers published an an an unal review of the market, dating the year from January 1, 1870 to January 1, 1871. These reviews, if intelligently compiled and correctly given, are commendable in the press, yet the facts should be through the custom house and chamber of commerce, if reliable data are required, and not the circulars of dealers or interested parties. An annual review of the commerce and trade of this city as well as all southern cities should date from the 1st of September for all articles and products, save and except leaf tobacco, that dates from November. The review in question, while giving some statistics only up to last June and others in blank aggregates, and blank in products, no doubt serves for its purpose as an advertising medium to those who paid for it. The information conveyed to the provision trade of the country, in which upwards of $46,475,000 is invested in hogs, that they have lost and must continue to "ma' e a loss" on every pound they purchased, is extremely encouraging if not very flattering to their abilities as business men. Former misstatements, in regard to the past year's tobacco crop, are again circulated in this "annual review," the bulk of which, especially that purporting to be an original compilation of the interests and products, was taken from our statistics when in the Board of Tade, three years ago. The annual report of the Board of Trade for the year ending March 31, 1869, in its enumeration of the leading factories and manufactories of the city, makes a total of $17 works, employing 11,626 operators, with $17,835,500 capital invested. This last review, purporting to be for the year just closed, shows a very material falling off in the number of works, the aggregate capital, and the number of hands employed. Has Louisville retrograded so much in those years? It would seem so, if this report for the year PORK-HOUSE, 1871 is to be relied upon. The actual facts, if published, would show that the city has made rapid strides in Industrial pursuits, population, and wealth in the past three years, and not decliped.

The Shreve estate in the Louisville hotel was sold Tuesday for $190, 100. The purchaser was Mr. Irwin C. Stump, of the firm of Stump & Walts. It is reported that this hotel will be carried on under new proprietors, and that Messrs. Kean and Judge, the former lesseés, will soon erect a new ho-

Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. sole proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, has for over three years offered, through nearly every newspaper in the United States, a standing reward of $300 for a case of Catarrh in the head which he cannot cure. That be has treated thousands of cases and Lad no claims presented for the reward, from any one who has made a thorough use of his means of cure, is strong and conclusive evidence that he possesses sure means of curing the loathsome disease, The Catarrh Remedy is sold disease, The Catarrh Remedy is sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION .- A new light dawned upon the world with the introduction of Plantation Bitters twelve years ago. Drastic purgation went out-restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indi-gestion, and reforming a bilious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the Grand Revolution in medical treatment, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antogonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that Plantation bitters is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.
